

Regulations for participating in the 45th German Treasure Hunt Championship 2025

Only persons who have reached the age of 18 at the time of the German Treasure Hunt Championship are eligible for participation. Minors may only participate with prior written consent by and under the supervision of a parent or guardian. Children and youths up to and including the age of 16 are ranked separately from adults.

Each participant's first and last name, date of birth and country of origin is required in advance. This data is documented in the entry / participant list and must be signed by each participant. During personal registration on site, each participant receives a starting number that can be fastened to their clothing, a pin-on button and a bag for findings, each marked with their starting number. The starting numbers are assigned on site in the order participants register on the aforementioned list.

The organizer determines the starting time, after which the defined area can be searched by means of a metal detector. Found objects are to be collected solely in the provided bag.

Only objects distributed by the organizer are included in scoring (tokens from the year 2025 that are minted on both sides).

When a gold coin is found, the participant should inform a judge (calling out "gold!" is sufficient).

Instant prizes (tokens from the year 2025 minted on only one side and showing a number on the other) can be redeemed for their respective prizes during the award ceremony on Saturday.

Redemption of these prizes is not possible at a later date or time. If the prize is not redeemed, the right to that prize is forfeited without replacement. The gold coins and the instant prize tokens (tokens minted only on one side) do NOT belong in the findings bag and are kept by the participant.

After the award ceremony, the participants can collect their bag of findings by presenting the button with the corresponding starting number. Each participant may then keep their bag including findings. Bags that have not been collected by 12 pm on Sunday will be disposed of by the organizer free of charge.

The event's ending is determined by the organizer and will be called out via speakers on-site. After the event has ended, no further searching or digging is allowed. Any participants continuing to search or dig after the event has ended will be disqualified.

The bags of findings will be collected by the judges at the on-site judging tent and are then evaluated.

Each object issued by the organizer (tokens from 2025) counts as one point. Gold coins and one-sided tokens (instant prizes) do not count towards scoring.

Passing on found objects to other persons, either directly or indirectly, is prohibited and leads to disqualification. If a participant leaves the search field, any findings as well as the issued bag must remain with a judge. Once discovered, tokens may not be dug back in or left behind. Any holes that have been dug are to be resealed as good as possible. Improperly sealed holed will negatively impact the participant's score. Any participants who, despite warnings by the judges, continue to leave holes open or improperly covered will be disqualified.

If multiple participants have the same number of points, ranking is based on the order of the participant's starting number.

Example:

Starting number	9	has	25	found objects	= 25 points
Starting number	16	also has	25	found objects	= 25 points
Starting number	104	also has	25	found objects	= 25 points

Based on the scoring example above, starting number 9 is ranked before number 16 and 16 before number 104 in the final results.
